A cost effective means of reducing HIV spread is through the implementation of Targeted Intervention amongst person most vulnerable to HIV/AIDS, such as Sex workers, Truck drivers, Migrants, Men Sex have with Men (MSM) and Injecting Drug Users (IDUs). Targeted Intervention with core composite (FSW and MSM) is running with Telangana State AIDS Control Society (TSACS) and National AIDS Control Organization (NACO) support, aligned with National AIDS Control Programme IV guidelines. The goal of NACP-IV is to halt and reverse the epidemic. The key strategies include prevention, treatment, care and support.

The characteristics of clients group of sex workers is one and same in all hotspots and are comprised with agricultural and general labour, petty shop holders, auto drivers, business man of the local area, employees and students. The present scenario in FSW and MSM communities, they are aware of the intervention components and its impacts on their lives. The utilization of clinical services and safe sex practices are increasing. Behavior change among the community is visible. The project is addressing the issues of illiteracy, poverty, lack of savings, violence, exploitation, harassment that arises during the implementation. In the last 10 years, the project have undergone various phases of learning, significant expansion, scale-up of facilities and thrust on quality to ensure coverage saturation of relevant sub-populations with the appropriate programmes and interventions.

Almost all this region of the state experienced foreseen circumstance regarding the issue of separate statehood, which could affect the project implementations, but the organization took extra measures to overcome the situation. As a result, we could successfully achieve objectives under the components of the intervention during the reporting period.

Progress of the Intervention Component wise

The Community Based Organization (CBO) are acting as communication channels in resource mobilization, social audit, issue-based representation, networking with other stakeholders, linkages with govt. welfare departments for schemes and information flow. The entire process has certain constraints such as illiteracy, ignorance of projects, lack of interest, low participation levels, first timers in CBO committees. To address these, organization is providing periodic orientation and training programs.

In response to the HIV/AIDS epidemic, there is a strong public health rationale for prioritizing those groups who are most marginalized and vulnerable to HIV infection and who as a consequence engage in high-risk sexual behaviors. Community led structural interventions are interventions that are strategized and implemented by the community to address structural issues to reduce individual and community's vulnerability towards HIV through a process of active participation and ownership building (within and outside the program). 4. Community Mobilization : Sneha initiated Community Based Organization (CBO) in different projects aiming to empower the beneficiary community towards their sustainability. These bodies are elected in a democratic procedure, members on these bodies have been provided trainings programs on management skills, capacity building, fund management and book keeping are helping them understand the mechanics of various programs, both government and non-government organization supported projects. The Community Based Organization (CBO) are acting as communication channels in resource mobilization, social audit, issue-based representation, networking with other stakeholders, linkages with government welfare departments for schemes and information flow. The entire process has certain constraints such as illiteracy, ignorance of projects, lack of interest, low participation levels, first timers in CBO committees. To address these, organization is providing periodic orientation and training programs.

In response to the HIV/AIDS epidemic, there is a strong public health rationale for prioritizing those groups who are most marginalized and vulnerable to HIV infection and who as a consequence engage in high-risk sexual behaviors. Community led structural interventions are interventions that are strategized and implemented by the community to address structural issues to reduce individual and community's vulnerability towards HIV through a process of active participation and ownership building (within and outside the program). The organization has initiated two CBO bodies for Female Sex Workers (FSW) and Men who have Sex with Men (MSM) the communities become a gradual partner through empowerment process and space created in the program to community leading the interventions.

5. Enabling Environment : National festivals and religious festivals conducted at DICs. Committee formation has been done and members are actively participating in solving the community issues. Advocacy activities were done to create enabling environment for the HRGs at hotspot level. Linkages arranged between SC, ST and BC corporations and arranged meeting with the concerned Govt officials.

Formed various project level committees for empowerment of high risk groups:
